DRAWING BY ERASING

Drawing by Erasing

- Drawing by erasing involves 'drawing' the lightest areas of a picture with an eraser (working in the reverse).
- You would begin by darkening your paper by adding layers of charcoal.
- Instead of using a pencil to build up layers of shading, use a kneaded eraser to gradually take away the highlights.

Drawing by Erasing

- The key is to take a little bit of charcoal away at a time.
- You would not just draw with your eraser.
- The goal is to work back and forth with your eraser and your charcoal to create the perfect values.
